² In this section, the program explicates when completion of the propaedeutic phase can be expected or why completion before 31 December 2020 is deemed to be impossible, taking into account timely certification / registration procedures. If already known, you can include the times / dates on which the remaining EC's can be obtained.

³ Please include name, e-mail address and telephone number in case the research university wishes to contact you for further consultation.
